Summary

At EagleView, my journey as a Software Engineer II has been marked by the successful scaling of backend systems and a substantial increase in application performance. My expertise in NestJS, ReactJS, and a suite of AWS technologies like DynamoDB and S3, has led to demonstrable improvements in product health and sales.

With a foundation in Computer Science from Anil Neerukonda Institute of Technology & Sciences, I thrive on mentoring new talent, optimizing network algorithms for performance gains, and developing innovative, scalable microservices architectures. Our team's collaborative efforts have consistently resulted in elevated system efficiency and customer satisfaction.
